THE LANDLADY'S DAUGHTER. There came three students over the Rhine, Dame Werter's house they entered in : "Dame Werter, hast thou good beer and wine, And where is that lovely daughter of thine?"

"My beer and my wine are fresh and clear, My daughter is lying cold on her bier."

They stepped within the chamber of rest
Where shrined lay the maiden in black robes dreat

The first be drew from her face the veil-He said, as he gazed with saddened brow-"How dearly would I leve thee now."

The second, he covered the face anew. And weeping, he turned saids from the view; "Ah me! that thou liest on the cold bier, The one I have loved for so many a year." The third once more uplifted the veil-

Thee loved I KYER, STILL love I thee, And thee will I love through eternity.' And that kiss, that kiss, with Promethean flame Thrilled with new life that quiggring frame, And the maid uprose and stood by his side,

That student's own loved and loving bride.

I regained my consciousness, and with and it was strange after the dull state of perfect insensibility in which I had lain during the last twenty-four hours, how completely all my senses had returned, how keen were all my perceptions, how perfect my powers of thought and reason. In my very healthiest days, I never remember to have had so complete command of all my mental faculties, as at that moment. But I was reduced to infant weakness; and there was a sensation of sinking faintness, not confined to any one part, or organ, but spreading over my whole frame, which plainly announced to me that the great event was coming. The event, however, has two physicians and a nurse were present; been a warning to me. In many cases previously, I had calmly seen people hurried very early to the grave; but ever since, wherever I had influence, I have prevented the dead from being buried before some signs of corruption presented themselves; for I am perfectly convinced that those signs are the only real tests of death. Such was the tale told at my grandfath er's table, in my hearing, by the Reverend Mr. H-, one of the most amiable, pious exemplary men I ever knew.

Though not, I am afraid, over-burdene with religion himself, my grandfather nev-er sneered at religion in others, and he merely observed, "The strangest part of your history, my excellent friend, seems to me, the extinction, as it were, of all of affection and consolation to my wife; thought of a future state, in the terrible together. The sensation that succeeded, I might almost call it the extinction of religion in your mind, which, in some of your principles and views, seems almost unaccountable; for the mere act of memory, should imagine, must have recalled the ideas in which you had been taught."

> "I observed a few days since, in one of your city journals, a paragraph taken from a Northern paper, alleging that General Lee and family had been subvisted from rations drawn from agents of the United States Government here in Richmond. As I am unwilling that this gratuitous and imperting nent falsehood should be permitted to go forth to the public without contradiction. I beg that you will do me the favor to state in your paper, upon the authority of an in-timate friend who is in daily intercourse with the family, that the whole story is entirely and utterly false, neither General Lee nor his family baving ever drawn a ration from the Government since the Federal occupation of Richmond."

An Incident of the Late Battle .- During one of the battles on the left, a son in one of the New York regiments met his father in one of the regiments and took him prisoner. It was an actual occurrence, vouched for upon good authority, and the manner of it was this: Just before the war commened the son left his home and went to the State of New York: he enlisted in the Federal service and came down into Gen. Grant's army here, and for gallantry in action was promoted to a Lieutenancy. The father was in the ranks yet. The other day while charging the rebel works on the left, this son in our lines, by some curious boat out of the jurisdiction of Almighty happening of Providence, came directly God? The Jeff. Davis Disguise Piction

Our reasons for discrediting the story of Jeff. Davis' attempt to escape in disguise dence of its truth; second, its innongrative with Davis' personal character; third and chiefly, the fact that Colonel Pritchard, whose name associated with the story has given it all the credit it ever had with any one, has been making speeches frequently since his arrival North, in no one of which has be in the most distant manner sliuded to the disguise. On the contrary, in 'pri-vate, as we are informed on the best possible authority, he speaks of the story, but as distinctly says that he was not present, and did not see the reported occurrence or any part of it. "It was reported to him," and, as he always adds, "swern to at Washington."

Besides this disclaimer of actual knowledge by Colonel Pritchard, we are informed and believe, that the captain of the gunboat which brought him to Fortress Monroe rewhich brought him to Fortress Monroe reports Colonel Pritchard as having fold him repeatedly that there was not a word of truth in the atory, but some people thought it necessary to keep it up. Mr. Davis was but partly dressed when the partly jushed in. He surrendered promptly and with dignity, saying that he was unarmed. When about to be removed, Mrs. Davis threw or handed him the water-proof which he wore till put on the gunboat.

The story so discreditable to our soldiers, who were represented in this same current narrative of the affair as having bullied and abused Mr. Davis, is equally false. They took no such advantage of their power, but, matter, and we certainly do not consider the fact that Secretary Stanton has sent Mrs. Davis' agua scutum to the Chicago fair proof that Mr. Davis attempted to escape in disguise, any more than we should consider it proof if he had sent Mr. Davis' boots or Mrs. Davis' bonnet to the Paris exhibition .- N. > What the Bloodhounds of Zion Want. - The New York Independent is of opinion that, "there is one, and only one, sure and safe policy, namely: The North must remain the absolute Dictator of the Republic until the spirit of the North shall become the spirit of the whole country." The country does not demand "absolute dictators, North or South, but a return to Republican government. The "Bloodhounds of Zion," North and South, want masters to fawn upon and victims to hunt. But that day is about to pass.

Dresden, May 27, 1805.

A fashionable lady in New York is going to have a house built soon on one o the best sites in town. Everything about it, she says, is to be sublimated and splendiferous. There is to be a Porto Rico in front, a Pizirro in the rear, and a Lemonade all around it. The water is to come in at the side of the house in an Anecdote; the lawn in front is to be degraded, and some large fresh trees are to be supplanted into the Erle in the rear. This is the same lady who told Governor Clinton how remarkably stormy it is apt to be when the sun is passing the "Penobscot,"

As Father Taylor was giving a temperance address in Rocky hill meeting-house, a certain drunkard was so much offended with his severe, but truthful remarks, that he rose up and began to hiss the speaker. Instantly Father Taylor turned the attention of the large and ence to the insolent rowdy and then very forcibly said, as he pointed to his victim, "Tuere's a red none got into cold.water; don't you hear it hiss?"

---Absent Minded .- A young man who was very fond of a clergyman's daughter, was time since, and had some fruit cake offered him. Being somewhat absent minded, he stammered out, "I pass !" The father hear-ing him, and he having played some in his younger days, was struck with the infatua-tion of the youth, and said oluntly, "Year tion of the youth, and said oluntly, "Yet pass, do you? There's the door; now let's see you pass out!"

It is related of the celebrated clergy man, John M. Mason, that sitting at steambout table on one occasion just as the passengers were "falling to" in the customary manner, he suidenly rapped vehem ently upon the board with the handle of his knife, and exclaimed: "Captain, is this

The young gents started in mock sur-prise, gazed at him in silence for a few moments, and then, amid an audible titter of the company, one of them drew from his pocket a quarter of a dollar, and laid it be fore Clark, still looking at him without a smile. Clark raised the quarter in silence and dignity, placed it in his pocket, and drew thence a shilling which he deposited before the young gent with these words:
"Children half price!"

The titter changed to a roar, and the exquisites were missing instantly:

Ayer's SARSAPARILLA

THE WORLD'S GREAT RENEDY FOR Scrothle and Scrothlous Diseases.

From Emery Elets, a well-known merchant of Oxford, Maine.

"I have sold large quantities of your Sarsafantill, but never yet one bottle which failed of the desired effect and full satisfaction to those who took it. As fast as our people try it, they agree there has been no medicine like it before in our community." Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Pustules, Ul-

Fruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Pustules, Ulcors, Bores, and all Diseases of the Skin.

From Rev. Robt. Stration, Bristol, England.

"I only do my duty to you and the public, when I add my testimony to that you publish of the medicinal virtues of your Sarsarahlla. My daughter, aged ten, had an afflicting humor in her cars, eyes, and hair for years, which we were unable to cure until we tried your Sarsarahlla. She has been well for some months."

From Mrs. Jame E. Rice, a well-known and macketemed langue Dennisville, Cape May Co., N. J.

"My daughter has suffered for a year past with a serofulous cruption, which was very troublesome. Nothing afforded any relief until we tried your Barsarahllala, when soon completely cured her."

From Charles P. Gage, Esq., of the widely-known Gage, Murray if Co., monufacturity of enamelled papers in Nashau, N. H.

"I had for several years a very troublesome humor in my face, which grew constantly worse until it disfigured my features and became an intol-crable affliction. I tried almost every thing a man could of both advice and mediene, but without any relief whatever, until I took your Sarsarahllala. It immediately made my face worse, as you told me it might for a time; but in a few weeks the new skin began to form under the blotches, and continued until my face is as smooth as any body'sa and I am without any symptoms of the disease that I know of. I enjoy perfect health, and without a doubt owe it to your Sarsarahllala."

From Dr. Robt. Sawin, Houston St., New York.

"In. AYEN. I seldom fail to remove Exceptions and Scrofulous Sores by the persevering use of your Sarsar NRILLA, and I have just now cured an attack of Malginant Erysipelas with it. No alterative we possess equals the Sausarantilla you have supplied to the profession as well as to the people."

From J. E. Johnston, Esq., Wakeman, Ohio.

"For twelve years, I had the yellow Erysipelas on my right arm, during which time I tried all the celebrated physicians I could reach, and took hundreds of dollars worth of medicines. The ulcers were so bad that the cords became visible, and the doctors decided that my arm must be amputated. I began taking your Sausarantilla. Took two bottles, and some of your Pills. Together they have cored me. I am now as well and sound assauly body, lesing in a public place, my case is known to every body in this community, and excites the wonder of all."

St. Anthony's Fire, Rose, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Bore Eyes.

From Hared Sickler, Lig., the able editor of the Tunkhannock Democrat, Pennsylvania.

"Our only child, about three years of age, was attacked by pinuples on his forchead. They rapidly spread until they formed a loathsome and virulent sore, which covered his face, and actually blinded his eyes for some days. A skilful plusician applied nitrate of silver and other remedies, without any apparent effect. For fifteen days we gnarded his hands, lest with them he should tear open the featering and corrupt wound which covered his whole face. Having trued every thing clase we had any hope from, we began giving your Saltstrantlak, and applying the loided of potash lotton, as you direct. The sore began to heal when we had given the first bottle, and was well when we had finished the second. The child's cyclashes, which had come out, grew again, and he is now as healthy and fair as any other. The whole neighborhood predicted that the child must die."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease.

From Dr. Hiram Sloot, of St. Louis, Miscouri.

"I find your Saisaparith. A a more effectual remedy for the secondary symptoms of Syphilis and for syphilide disease than any other we possess. The profession are indebted to you for some of the best medicines we have."

From A. J. French, M. D., an eminent physician of Lawrence, Mass., who is a prominent member of the Legislature of Missachiaetts.

"Dr. AYER. My dear Sir: I have found your Saisararich as excellent remedy for Syphilis, both of the primary and secondary type, and effectual in some cases that were too obstinute to yield to other remedies. I do not know what we can employ with more certainty of success, where a powerful alterative is required."

Mr. Chas. S. Fan Lier, of New Brusswick, N. J., had dreadful nleers on his lags, caused by the abuse of mercury, or mercuried disease, which grew more and more aggravated for years, in spite of every remedy or treatment that could be applied, until the persevering use of Ayrik's Saits which grew more and fistressing than this, and it took several dozen bottles to cure him. Few cases can be found more invetwarte and distressing than this, and it took several dozen bottles to cure him.

Agricultural Chemical Co.'s HEAP FERTILIZERS.

The Fertilizers prepared by the Agricultural Chemical Co. (a Company chartened by the Legislature with a capital of $250,000,) have been proved in practice to be the cheapest, most profitable and best, for the Farmer, Gardner and Fruit-grower, of all concentrated manures now offered in any market. The Company's list embraces the following:

PABULETTE This Fertilizer is comthe fertilizing elements of urine, combined chemically and mechanically with other valuable fertilizing agents and absorbents.

It is reduced to a pulverulent condition; ready for immediate use, and without loss of ready for immediate use, and without loss on its highly nitrogenous fertilizing properties. Its universal applicability to all crops and soils, and its durability and active qualities, are well known to be all that agriculturists can desire.

CHEMICAL COMPOST. This Fertilargely composed of animal matter, such as meat; bone, fish, leather, hair and wood, together with chemicals and inorganic fertilizers, which decompose the mass, and retain the garden purposes. Its excellent qualities, strength and cheapness, have made it very popular with all who have used it.

Composite Fertilizer. This highly fertilizer is particularly adapted for the cultivation of trees, figits, lawns and flowers. It will promote a very vigorous and healthy growth of wood and fruit, and largely increase the quantity and perfect the maturity of the fruit. For hot-house and household plants and flowers, it will be found an indispensable article to a cure their greatest perfection. It will prevent and cure diseased conditions of the peach and grape, and is excellent for grass and lawns.
It is composed of such elements as make it ndapted to the growth of all kinds of crops in all kinds of soils. The formula or method of combining it constituent fertilizing ingredients have foceived the highest approval of emirent chemists and scientific againsturists.

Phosphate of Lime, The Agricultural Company manufactures Phosphate of Lime in accordance with a new and valuable formula by which a very superior article is produced, so as to be afforded at a less price than other manafacturers charge. Practical tests have proved thatits value, as a fertilizer, is equal to the best Phosphate of Lime in the market.
